BRainerd, MINNESOTA

ONE hundred and twenty-five suits are pending against the electric car company of Boston, asking for $122,000 damages by accidents.

A COMPANY to place advertisements on the ceilings of barber shops for the perusal of men getting shaved has been formed in New York.

WILLIAM BRINNINGHAM, of Fairton, Cumberland county, N. J., recently celebrated his 87th birthday anniversary by sowing two cords of wood.

WHILE drilling for water at San Antonio, Tex., oil of a very superior quality and a seemingly healthy flow was struck at a depth of 535 feet.

ONE of Horace Greeley's nephews is a barber in a little town in Warren county, Pa. In personal appearance he is not unlike his distinguished uncle.

A MACON, Ga., man has a flying-squirrel which he does not feather excepting a few on his wings. The chicken has been feathered ever since it was hatched and enjoys perfect health.

ANTRIM WORRILL, of Delaware county, Pennsylvania has been awarded $925 damages for injuries received on the public road. He was watching a couple of bulls fighting when an overhanging limb caught his head and tore his hair out by the roots.

JOSEPH VAN NOSTRAND, aged 10 years, of Hoboken, N. J., carried a parcel for a man on board the steamship Werra several days ago. The vessel left the wharf before he was aware of it and he has been carried across the ocean. A cable message has been sent to have him returned.

A PASS issued to a bridal party over the Jacksonville, St. Augustine and Halifax Railroad, gotten up especially for the occasion, read as follows: "What fools these mortals be!" then the words, "Pass Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Waite from St. Augustine to perpetual bliss. Not good after divorce."

The principal manufacturers of Boston in 1796 consisted of rum, loaf sugar, beer, sailcloth, cordage, wool and cotton cards, playing cards, pot and pearl ashes, paper hangings, hats, plate glass, tobacco and chocolate. There were thirty distilleries, two breweries, eight sugar houses and eleven ropewalks.

WAS a little girl named Smith was pumping water from a well at Shelbyville, Mo., the platform gave way and she fell to the bottom, a distance of 20 feet. Rev. Mr. Melson witnessed the accident and descended into the well, and succeeded in rescuing the child. Beyond a few slight bruises she escaped injury.

Two girls of the same age and nearly the same name were placed in a French institution for the care of friendless children ten years ago. Sometime ago one of them was taken out by her supposed mother, giving a handsome dowry and married.

The other girl now comes forward as evidence of proof that she is the real daughter, and she claims the dowry, if not the husband, of her substitute.

WILLIAM MARTIN, a curiosity in the shape of a gosling at his home in Eaton township, near Tunkhannock, Pa. This little "farm bird," about a month old, has two feet, but one of them is a perfect chicken's foot; the other is a natural "web" foot, and when placed in the water it goes around much like a toad.

This freak of nature is a new one, and we doubt if there is another one like it in existence.

The young lady of Attica, N. Y., who has for three years been prominent as a "sleeping beauty," owing to the fact that she has been subject to prolonged spells of somnolence, is now so thoroughly awake that she is beginning to experience long periods of insomnia. She remains awake forty-eight hours at a time, with breaks of four hours of sleep.

The young man who remained true to her during her years of prolonged napping, will now find that he has a girl who can double discount him in sitting up for courting.

More Advice to Smokers. "Lots of advice has been given to smokers, but I'll tell you something which has never been written up and ought to be known."

This was told a reporter in the Grand Pacific by one of the biggest tobacco dealers in New York. "Come into the cigar store," he went on, "and you will notice that two out of three men will cough while lighting cigars."

"The first person who set fire to a cigar coughed," he told you, "and you can't tell me," he said, "that you don't cough when you light a cigar."

"It's caused by the smoke," he said. "When you are about to smoke out of the mouth end of the cigar, put the smoke end in the mouth, and then blow. This expels all the fine particles of tobacco and dust inside the cigar. When you have done this reverse the torch, and you won't cough when lighting it. Those little bits of tobacco go down your throat, and are inhaled."

More people have been injured by inhaling these little particles of tobacco than you have any idea of, yet they think they were hurt by inhaling the smoke."—Chicago Tribune.

BRainerd, MINNESOTA

Over hundred and twenty-five suits are pending against the electric car company of Boston, asking for $132,000 damages by accident.

A COMPANY to place advertisements on the ceilings of barbers shops for the perusal of men getting shaved has been formed in New York.

WILLIAM BRINNINGHAM, of Fairport, Cumberland county, N. J., recently celebrated his 87th birthday anniversary by savoring two cords of wood.

WHILE drilling for water at San Antonio, Tex., of a very superior quality and a seemingly healthy flow was struck at a depth of 535 feet.

ONE of Horace Greeley's nephews is a barber in a little town in Warren county, Pa. In personal appearance he is not unlike his distinguished uncle.

A MACON, Ga., man has a frying-sizichicken with no feather excepting a few on his wings. The chicken has been featherless ever since it was hatched and enjoys perfect health.

ANTHONY WORRILLOW of Delaware county, Pennsylvania has been awarded $925 damages for injuries received on the public road. He was watching a couple of bulls fighting when an overhanging limb caught his head and tore his hair out by the roots.

JOSEPH VAN NOSTRAND, aged 10 years, of Hoboken, N. J., carried a parrot for a man on board the steamship Werra several days ago. The vessel left the wharf before he was aware of it, and he has been carried across the ocean. A cable message has been sent to have him returned.

A PASS issued to a bridal party over the Jacksonville, St. Augustine and Halifax Railroad, gotten up especially for the occasion, read as follows: "What fools these mortals be," then the words, "Pass Mr. and Mrs. A. J. White from St. Augustine to perpetual bliss. Not good after divorce."

The principal manufactures of Boston in 1796 consisted of rum, loaf sugar, beer, sallow, cordage, wool and cotton cards, playing cards, pot and pearl ashes, paper hangings, hats, plate glass, tobacco and chocolate. There were thirty distilleries, two breweries, eight sugar houses and eleven ropewalks.

WHILE a little girl named Smith was peeping water from a well at Shellberg, Ia., the platform gave way and she fell to the bottom, a distance of 20 feet. Rev. Mr. Melson witnessed the accident and descended into the well, and succeeded in rescuing the child. Beyond a few slight bruises she escaped injury.

MAJ. POLLOCK, chief clerk in the second assistant postmaster-general's office, has prepared statement showing that during the last fiscal year there was an increase of 801 in the number of star service routes, an increase of one in the steamboat service, of six in the wagon service, of ninety in the railroad service, and 406 in the mail messenger service.

Two girls of the same age and nearly the same name were placed in a French institution for the care of friendless children ten years ago. Sometime ago one of them was taken out by her supposed mother, giving a handsome dowry and married. The other girl now comes forward with offers of proof that she is the real daughter, and she claims the dowry, if not the husband, of her substitute.

WILLIAM MARTIN, has a curiosity in the shape of a gosling at his home in Eaton township, near Tunkhannock, Pa. This little "farm bird," about a month old, has two feet, but one of them is a perfect chicken's foot; the other is a natural "web" foot, and when placed in the water it goes around much like a toad. This freak of nature is a new one, and we doubt if there is another one like it in existence.

The young lady of Attica, N. Y., who has for three years been pronounced a "sleeping beauty," owing to the fact that she has been subject to prolonged spells of somnolence, is now so thoroughly awake that she is beginning to experience long periods of insomnia. She remains awake forty-eight hours at a time, with breaks of four hours of sleep. The young man who remained true to her during her years of prolonged napping, will now find that he has a girl who can double discount him in sitting up for courting.

More Advice to Smokers. "Lots of advice has been given to smokers, but I'll tell you something which has never been written up and ought to be known." "I'll tell you," exclaimed the lecturer. "Two out of three will die that."

"It's caused by the smoke," "Never. When you are about to smoke cut off the mouth end of the cigar, put the smoke end in the mouth, and then blow. This expels all the fine particles of tobacco and dust inside the cigar. When you have done this reverse the torch, and you won't cough when lighting it. Those little bits of tobacco go down your throat, and are injurious. More people have been injured by swallowing these little specks than you have any idea of, yet they think they were hurt by inhaling the smoke."—Chicago Tribune.

Terrible Wind Storm Strikes Lake Gervais Killing Six and Wounding Eleven.
LAKE CITY, Special Telegram.—What will probably prove to be the most disastrous cyclone that has ever struck this community, swept over the city at 9 o'clock to-night, inflicting the loss of life of perhaps 100 or 200 people and damaging property to an extent that at this writing cannot be estimated. The wind was from the west, blowing in gusts, and the water was raised to a height of 10 to 15 feet. The wind was from the west, blowing in gusts, and the water was raised to a height of 10 to 15 feet.

Three Noted Widows.
Mrs. Henry Ward Beecher has returned from Florida and is seen on the streets occasionally, a little figure, slight, white-haired, and folded in her arms, the little white bird, yesterday there was the faintest touch of pink on her cheeks, giving her that delicate shell-like beauty which sometimes goes with a soft pink skin and white curls. She had a bunch of lilacs of the valley pinned on her bosom. Within the block I had passed another woman whose proximity made me look startled.

At the first of the pictures of Victoria Woodhull? I think not. Neither had the pretty Julia Maud recognized her.
A new generation has grown up, and in any case there would have been nothing to connect her with the encounter. Yet meeting the two brought back old memories. Mrs. Beecher's rooms are full of pictures of her husband, as the young lover, who when he was the best looking of the year he died; and most of these pictures are so placed that the trail of a vine, the petals of a flower carried by the wind, the petals of a flower carried by the wind, the petals of a flower carried by the wind.

Her interests in life are large. She is a woman of wide vision, and she believes, would, if she were living, meet his approval. She gives a helping hand to the Brooklyn Woman's Health Protective Association, and she is always ready to clean the streets of a dirty city.

On the same day I passed within the hour two other widows—Mrs. Custer, in black dress and with winnowing hair, and Mrs. Grant, who does not walk far, but was crossing the sidewalk from her carriage. Mrs. Custer has the record, I believe, of never making an acquaintance, and she is a woman of wide vision, and she believes, would, if she were living, meet his approval.

Mrs. Grant looks well and kindly. Her hair is white, but she is a woman of wide vision, and she believes, would, if she were living, meet his approval. She gives a helping hand to the Brooklyn Woman's Health Protective Association, and she is always ready to clean the streets of a dirty city.

At the first of the pictures of Victoria Woodhull? I think not. Neither had the pretty Julia Maud recognized her.
A new generation has grown up, and in any case there would have been nothing to connect her with the encounter. Yet meeting the two brought back old memories. Mrs. Beecher's rooms are full of pictures of her husband, as the young lover, who when he was the best looking of the year he died; and most of these pictures are so placed that the trail of a vine, the petals of a flower carried by the wind, the petals of a flower carried by the wind, the petals of a flower carried by the wind.

Her interests in life are large. She is a woman of wide vision, and she believes, would, if she were living, meet his approval. She gives a helping hand to the Brooklyn Woman's Health Protective Association, and she is always ready to clean the streets of a dirty city.

On the same day I passed within the hour two other widows—Mrs. Custer, in black dress and with winnowing hair, and Mrs. Grant, who does not walk far, but was crossing the sidewalk from her carriage. Mrs. Custer has the record, I believe, of never making an acquaintance, and she is a woman of wide vision, and she believes, would, if she were living, meet his approval.

Mrs. Grant looks well and kindly. Her hair is white, but she is a woman of wide vision, and she believes, would, if she were living, meet his approval. She gives a helping hand to the Brooklyn Woman's Health Protective Association, and she is always ready to clean the streets of a dirty city.

Terrible Wind Storm Strikes Lake Gervais Killing Six and Wounding Eleven.
LAKE CITY, Special Telegram.—What will probably prove to be the most disastrous cyclone that has ever struck this community, swept over the city at 9 o'clock to-night, inflicting the loss of life of perhaps 100 or 200 people and damaging property to an extent that at this writing cannot be estimated. The wind was from the west, blowing in gusts, and the water was raised to a height of 10 to 15 feet. Three Noted Widows.
Mrs. Henry Ward Beecher has returned from Florida and is seen on the streets occasionally, a little figure, slight, white-haired, and folded in her arms, the little white bird, yesterday there was the faintest touch of pink on her cheeks, giving her that delicate shell-like beauty which sometimes goes with a soft pink skin and white curls. She had a bunch of lilacs of the valley pinned on her bosom. Within the block I had passed another woman whose proximity made me look startled.

A Resume of the Proceedings of Congress During the Past Week.

The American a Glutton.
The average American, although a colossal eater, does not at present know how to dine. This is a home truth which he resents extremely, and contradicts with vigor; indeed, he is apt to introduce comparisons between the requirements of his own and other lands which invariably leave a large balance in favor of Delmonico's. Still, spite of an occasional exception, the American born gastronome is as rare a bird as the American born chef of any serious pretensions.—Cornhill Magazine.

Our Queer English.

A ship called the David E. Ward went into San Francisco in distress, and the papers of the city speak of "her" long voyage, "her" loss of papers, "her" arrival after many dangers, etc. The English language was evidently invented to sell as a puzzle. Had the ship been the Jenny P. Ward the would not have been referred to as "she." But why not?

BRainerd, MINNESOTA

One hundred and twenty-five suits are pending against the electric car company of Boston, asking for $132,000 damages by accidents.

A complaint to place advertisements on the ceilings of barber shops for the perusal of men getting shaved has been formed in New York.

WILLIAM BRININGHAM, of Fairport, Cumberland county, N. J., recently celebrated his 77th birthday anniversary by savoring two cords of wood.

While drilling for water at San Antonio, Tex., oil of a very superior quality and a seemingly healthy flow was struck at a depth of 535 feet.

One of Horace Crowley's nephews is a barber in a little town in Warren county, Pa. In personal appearance he is not unlike his distinguished uncle.

A chicken, Ga., man has a frying-sack maceon without a feather excepting a few on his wings. The chicken has been featherless ever since it was hatched and enjoys perfect health.

ANTHONY WORRELOW, of Delaware county, Pennsylvania, has been awarded $925 damages for injuries received on the public road. He was watching a couple of bulls fighting when an overhanging limb caught his head and tore his hair out by the roots.

JOSEPH VAN NOSTRAND, aged 10 years, of Hoboken, N. J., carried a parcel for a man on board the steamship Verba several days ago. The vessel left the wharf before he was aware of it and he has been carried across the ocean. A cable message has been sent to have him returned.

A pass issued to a bridal party over the Jacksonville, St. Augustine and Halifax Railroad, gotten up especially for the occasion, read as follows: "What fools these mortals be," then the words, "Pass Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Waite from St. Augustine to perpetual bliss. Not good after divorce."

The principal manufactures of Boston in 1796 consisted of rum, loaf sugar, beer, salicott, cordage, wool and cotton cards, playing cards, paint and pearl ashes, paper hangings, hats, glass, glass, tobacco and chocolate. There were thirty distilleries, two breweries, eight sugar houses and eleven ropewalks.

When a little girl named Smith was pumping water from a well at Shellsburg, Ia., the platform gave way and she fell to the bottom, a distance of 20 feet. Rev. Mr. Melson witnessed the accident and descended into the well, and succeeded in rescuing the child. Beyond a few slight bruises she escaped injury.

Mrs. POLLOCK, chief clerk in the second assistant postmaster-general's office, has prepared a statement showing that during the last fiscal year there was an increase of 801 in the number of star service routes, an increase of one in the steamboat service, of six in the wagon service, of ninety in the railroad service, and 406 in the mail messenger service.

Two girls of the same age and nearly the same name were placed in a French institution for the care of friendless children ten years ago. Some time ago one of them was taken out by her supposed mother, given a handsome dowry and married. The other girl now comes forward with offers of proof that she is the real daughter, and she claims the dowry, if not the husband, of her substitute.

WILLIAM MARTIN, has a curiosity in the shape of a gosling at his home in Eaton township, near Tunkhannock, Pa. This little "farm bird," about 1 month old, has two feet, but one of them is a perfect chicken's foot; the other is a natural "web" foot, and when placed in the water it goes around much like a top. This freak of nature is a new one, and we doubt if there is another one like it in existence.

The young lady of Attica, N. Y., who has for three years been prominent as a "sleeping beauty," owing to the fact that she has been subject to prolonged spells of somnolence, is now so thoroughly awake that she is beginning to experience long periods of insomnia. She remains awake forty-eight hours at a time, with breaks of four hours of sleep. The young man who remained true to her during her years of prolonged napping, will now find that he has a girl who can dole out him in sitting up for courting.

More Advice to Smokers. "Lots of advice has been given to smokers, but I'll tell you something which has never been written up and ought to be known."

This was told a reporter in the Grand Pacific by one of the biggest tobacco dealers in New York. "Come into the cigar store," he went on, "and you will notice that two out of three men will cough while lighting cigars."

The first cigar they set fire to a cigar company quite violently. "Didn't I tell you?" exclaimed the lecturer. "Two out of three will do it."

"It's caused by the smoke," he said. "Never. When you are about to smoke cut off the mouth end of the cigar, put the smoke end in the mouth, and then blow. This expels all the fine particles of tobacco and dust inside the cigar. When you have done this reverse the 'torch,' and you won't cough when lighting it. Those little bits of smoke, you see, are the cause of the cough. More people have been injured by swallowing these little specks than you have any idea of, yet they don't know it. They are fatal to the smoke."—Chicago Tribune.
